Site Selection Near for New Salvation Army Building

Announcement will be made in a few weeks of the proposed site for a new Salvation Army building for the Quad-City area, Capt. Harold F. Thomas told the 100 persons at the Army Advisory Board's annual dinner meeting Thursday evening.

He pointed out the Citadel at 18th street and Grand avenue is wholly inadequate and that studies show "Now is the time for a capital fund drive to build." The building fund drive is to be conducted next year.

The captain's remarks were substantiated by Major George A. Scofield, divisional secretary for the Midland Division, St. Louis, who was guest speaker for the program given at Wesley Hall of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Scofield commented that the Salvation Army was having a difficult time in keeping up with rising prices and that a building program should be undertaken here as soon as possible because of continued cost increases.

Advisory Board Praised
 The major also praised members of the advisory board, pointing out the Salvation Army could not keep up with even 50% of the present undertakings if it were not for the active board members. He congratulated Edward Stone, who served as master of ceremonies, for his re-election as chairman of the board.

In his talk, Major Scofield compared the lives and the results of the works of two young men who were in similar circumstances 100 years ago in London, England—Earl Marx known as the father of communism, and William Booth, the founder of the Salvation Army.

Special recognition was given by Stone and Capt. Thomas to individuals and organizations aiding in December's successful "Tree of Lights" campaign headed by Edwin Reiske. Boxes of food and toys were distributed to 488 families and clothing was provided for 399 children.

The winner of the "Top Bell" in the 1968 Royal Order of Bellringers was the Tri-City Shrine Club, followed by the Granite City Rotary Club, Moose Lodge, Business & Professional Women's Club, the Rock Young Men's Club, the Salvation Army Girl Guard Troop, the Salvation Army Ladies Home League, the Granite City Kiwanis Club and the Trailriders Saddle Club.

Plaque awards also were made to Madison Auto Parts Inc., the only winner of the 200 Club award and 100 Club award winners—The Quad-City Publishing Co. (Press-Record), Granite City Steel Co., Charitable Trust, S. E. Pershall, the Granite City Rotary Club and Mrs. Kathleen Reiskind.

Honors also were given the Eagles Lodge for 222 cases of canned goods, Retail Store Employees Local 458 for 30 boxes of food, and Girl Scouts Neighborhood Five for 26 baskets of food.

The annual report was distributed to those present and showed total income during 1968 to be $47,897, of which $23,480 came from the Tri-Cities Area United Fund, $6640 from Tree of Lights donations, $6868 from other contributions and $8873 from membership and publications.

Disbursements for the year amounted to $41,628, including $14,946 salaries, wages and employee benefits, $9660 for building, equipment and maintenance, $4153 for communications, transportation and office expenses, and $19,439 for community services, welfare and other activities.

Capt. Thomas reported an accumulated total of 17,797 attendances at Salvation Army programs, such as chapel services, character-building activities, golden age meetings and recreational functions—an average of 48 each day.

Material assistance averaged 15 cases each day—totaling 5554 individuals aided through the various social welfare programs.

For youth, there were 425 recreational and character-building programs with total attendance of 727, and 145 summer recreation sessions with 3692 in attendance. In addition, 32 youths attended seasonal encampments at Bourbon, Mo.

For adults, 333 chapel services and other activities were conducted with attendance totaling 6475, including 749 senior citizens at 24 group meetings. The Salvation Army League of Mercy, that regularly visits hospitals and institutions, including a monthly visit to the Scott Air Force Base Hospital and the Military Reduction Center, made 56 visits with 2652 patients last year and gave 3377 gifts to families and servicemen and women.

Under emergency and disaster services, the Salvation Army gave assistance to 21 persons who were victims of fire burn-outs last year. It was noted there were no tornado or flood cases for the Corps last year.

Three caseworkers under the direction of the local Corps officers devoted their time to investigating a and counseling clients in need of materials and financial assistance. There were 192 welfare orders given for food, clothing, furniture, medicine, rent and utilities. An additional 216 cases concerned additional assistance from clothing and food on hand, and 61 meals were provided the homeless and in 17 cases, miscellaneous aid was provided.

Capt. Thomas reported there was a total of 931 consultations at the local Corps office for material assistance and spiritual guidance, 1803 hours of care in home visits and 3361 hours service by volunteers.

During the program, entertainment was provided by the Junior Timbral Brigade and by Margaret MacZara, soloist, who was accompanied by Ruby Hoffman, pianist. The invocation and benediction were given by Rev. Paul Sims, pastor of Niedringhaus Church.

Introduced during the meeting were the advisory board officers—Stone, chairman; Richard Robertson, Judge Fred Schuman, Albert Belt, C. E. Blankenship, Fred Cunningham, Harry Ebe, Wade James, George Stearns, C. E. Townsend, Albert Ward Jr., Claude Echols, Albert Michel, Lavern C. Parker, Christ Pashoff, Lester Salem, A. C. Stoevers, Mrs. Elvira Thurber and Charles Zeugin.

revenues from the old Chain of Rocks bridge. But 2½ million in the reserve fund has become depleted, necessitating the sale of revenue bonds which currently have an interest rate of 6½% on the market.

Lease agreements between the city and industries call for an annual return of 10% on the investment by the city for a period of 20 years, with tax arrangements for an additional 20 years.

Other firms involved include the Waggoner warehouse, the million-dollar Caine Steel Co. plant which is to begin operations at the park this week, and the Zimring & Sons warehouse and office building.

Maeras, who noted that a firm associated with Diamond Plating is interested in locating next to the new plant, commended local firms for consolidating their operations at the new industrial park.

Park Developments

He said that initial efforts to locate here had mostly dismal results, but that the park is developing to expectations, with resultant benefits to the city and its taxpayers.

Mayor John Lee of the neighboring city of Venice remarked that the industrial development in Madison "may be the real answer to labor-management problems that we have had for years. I think this will be advantageous to all."

Merge Municipalities

He also proposed the merger of the cities of Venice and Madison. "You've got a real thing going," Mayor Maeras also advocated consolidation of the two cities with Granite City, including the school districts. "Maybe we won't see it," he said, "but it's got to come. We've got everything we need right in our own back yard."

C. E. Townsend, editor and publisher of the Press-Record was a guest, added that the local newspaper has supported the idea of consolidation through most of its history.

A Madison-Venice merger, he added, could be the first step in merging the entire community, including the Nameoki and Chouteau township areas.

One community with a large population can be much more effective with legislators in Springfield and Washington, he added.

"As for the industrial park, I have a strong belief that it will be a tremendous force in the community — an anchor for the whole community."

"There is much we can do to help ourselves and our community in attracting new industry. We can do more, and I'm convinced the Quad-City area will be the hub of the Madison-St. Clair county region."

Realize Potential

Keith Toby, assistant manager of the Illinois Power Co. office here, added that "Madison county has more potential than any other county in the state. But potential doesn't mean anything unless it is realized."

"Someone must have the foresight to develop this potential," he added, and credited local small industries for taking advantage of the opportunities offered at the new industrial park.

Learning that the park has been in existence only five years, he complimented the rate of industrial growth as compared to similar endeavors in other parts of the state.

His comments, and those of others, were repeated by Leo Wolf, contractor for the Diamond plant, and several Madison aldermen.

Miss Carol Ann Cease and Michael Skinner are Wed

Miss Carol Ann Cease, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Cease, 2215 Lynch avenue, became the bride of Michael George Skinner, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Skinner, 261 Coventry place, Ed-wardsville, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the Presbyterian Church.

The ceremony was performed at 10:30 in a setting of white flowers, greenery and candlelight. The Rev. Gail Cross officiated, and a reception followed at the church.

A street-length dress of ivory lace with short sleeves was worn by the bride. Pearls trimmed the neckline and a pearl and lace headpiece secured the bride's shoulder-length blonde hair. She carried a small bouquet of white rose buds and daisies.

The only attendants were Mrs. Leonard Lybarger jr. and Stephen Skinner, a brother of the bridegroom.

The bridegroom, Mr. Lybarger, was a white, turquoise and green knit dress. Both wore accessories to match their costumes.

The newweds will reside at 38 Melvin drive, Arlington Heights.

The former Miss Cease was graduated from Granite City high school and received a degree from Illinois State University in 1968. She is presently teaching at Wilson school.

Mr. Skinner was graduated from Edwardsville high school in 1964 and from SIU-SW in '69. He is a special education teacher in the Edwardsville school district.

CRADLE SHOWER HELD AT

Mrs. Sharon Hodshire was honored with a blessed event shower Thursday evening at Suburban Baptist Church given by her aunt, Mrs. Hattie Pryor, and sister, Mrs. Charlene Miller and Mrs. Doris Cook.

Guests were seated at long tables covered with white luncheon cloths. Crystal bud vases were arranged at random points, holding pink and variegated violet roses mixed with green ferns.

Favors of miniature baby carriages of white and lilac, filled with after dinner mints, were at each place setting.

Games were played, with Mrs. Judy Fidler winning a prize for the first to arrive.

Mrs. Ruby McFalls, oldest mother present; Mrs. Carol Knevezich, youngest mother; Mrs. Doris Bachelder, description of "what a baby is made of"; Mrs. Evelyn Smith, word association game; Mrs. Virginia Gray and Mrs. Doris Ziegler, largest families (five children); Mrs. Jo Ann Terrell, last to arrive; and Mrs. Janet Kunkin.

The gift table was covered with a white cloth and centered with a large doll. Streamers of deep pink were suspended above the table and also were draped above the entrance and about the room.

The gift table was a fellow worker of the honoree at Carp's store, assisted in the gift opening and made a "keepsake bouquet" from the ribbons.

Mrs. Margaret Garrison offered prayer at a buffet-style luncheon. The tablecloth had a border of carriages decorated with ribbons and flowers in contrasting shades of lilac, fuchsia, pink and orchid. A crystal bowl on a pedestal held cranberry spring punch.

Decorated homemade cakes centered the table along with pink, red and violet gelatin. Centerpiece was an arrangement of large pink carnations, lilac foliage, stephanotis and pink climbing roses with trailing ivy. A silver coffee service and napkins to match the luncheon cloth completed the table adornments.

Spring Training Begins For MHS Trojan Nine

The Madison Trojan baseball team, which last season won seven games, lost seven and tied one, began training last week for the opening game against Assumption, but because of the cold weather action outside was limited.

With a break in the weather, the Trojans will move their practices outside. The gym is good enough for throwing and catching, Coach Larry Burns said, but all of the hitting practice must be held inside.

The Trojans open their 1969 season March 24 at home. The local squad has two returning leaguers, Doug DeRosier, who lost three games last year, lost three and tied one; while Don Bunk won four against two losses.

If leaguers returning is an indication of the power to expect from Madison then the Trojans should field a respectable team, considering the fact that 10 leaguers are back this season.

Returnees and their batting averages are John Irvin .294, Jim Scott .333, Bill Campbell .319, Don Bunk .250, Dale Clinton .318, Bob Scott .250, Howard Harper .175, Doug DeRosier .226, Harold James .200 and Mike Tuohy .000.

One of the most promising players on the Trojan lineup this season, according to Coach Burns, is Mark Wells. "He is a good prospect for a catcher or an infielder."

The Trojan lineup includes outfielders—Jim Scott, John Irvin, Dale Clinton, Mike Tuohy, Courtney Prothro, Ron Warchol and Tony Young. Infielders will be Bob Scott,

Parker Referee for State Cage Tourney

Keith Parker, a coach at Coolidge junior high school, has been selected by the Illinois High School Association to referee the first round of the state final basketball tournament (super-sectional) at Carbondale tomorrow evening and has been chosen as one of eight referees who will officiate at the quarterfinals of the tournament opening Friday at the University of Illinois Assembly Hall, Champaign.

All of the eight have had long and successful officiating careers and were in strong demand at regional and sectional tournaments in their sections of the state.

Inter-City Trimmed To 6 Teams for 1969

The Southwestern Illinois Inter-City Baseball League schedule will officially start Sunday afternoon, April 13, when six teams will begin 24-game schedules that will run through Labor Day, Sept. 1.

The six squads competing this year will be Mercer and Granite City Steel Credit Union, both of Granite City; the Mayville team; the Peoria team; the Peoria Motors; East Alton Machinists; and the Peoria Braves.

The Troy Red Birds and the Polish-American War Veterans of East St. Louis have been granted one-year leaves of absence because these two teams could not field enough players for the season.

The league will eliminate the two-division system and put its six teams in one circuit. At the end of the season, the first-and-fourth-place teams will meet and the second-and-third-place teams will play. The winners then will play a best-of-three series for the playoff championship.

Lancers, Defeated by Madison, in Sweet 16

Can Belleville East (22-8) win its super-sectional game with Mattoon (15-13) at Charleston tomorrow night? The answer is of special interest to Madison and Venice high school basketball fans.

MHS lost 64-48 at Belleville East Dec. 17 but then ousted the host team 67-66 in overtime Jan. 21 in the first annual Belleville East invitational meet.

Venice led the Lancers 17-15, 37-29 and 56-47 at the quarters March 3 in the opening round of the Cahokia regional tourney before bowing 78-72.

Last Chance to Buy Blues Season Ticket

The Granite City park district office still has 15 season tickets available for the 1969 season of the St. Louis ice hockey Blues. The tickets sell for $114 or $65, depending on location.

Supt. Harold Brown reports, "We will be sending a bus to each game next year at a cost of $1 to each ticketholder. We started out with 45 tickets and have the 15 left. The Blues ticket office has informed us that it is going to be very hard to get seats next year. They expect to have only about 1600 seats available for each game."

"We have to return the tickets early on Friday, so anyone wishing to purchase them must do so this week."

3003 Series in ABC Tourney by GC Team

Comfort Heating of Granite City moved into fourth place in the American Bowling Congress tournament at Madison, Wis., Saturday, with Bill Snowden totaling 680 on games of 242, 215 and 223.

The team had 3003 on games of 953, 978 and 1072. The last game was the fourth highest rolled in the tournament.

Team members and their series scores included Gary Gubser 648, Jack Marti 608, John Rice 573, and Bob Graham 553. Also at the tournament from Bowland lanes was Schlitz, which rolled a series of 7281.

Members of that team were Mike Vesci 494, Phil Boyer 611, Jack Jachimo 512, Joe Avedisian 524 and Mac Legate, 646.

MORE ABOUT

arrival, there were talks by county Republican Chairman Charles R. Walters and a former chairman, Rolla J. Mortz, with the latter introducing a large number of officials, party leaders and candidates. Dr. Merrill Ottwein, 53rd Illinois District senatorial nominee, also was called upon for remarks to the large gathering.

House Speaker Ralph T. Smith introduced the governor, for whom he served as 1968 downstate campaign manager.

21,000-Vote Gain in County
Gov. Ogilvie called Madison County "the newest Republican county in Illinois. Last June, you provided my campaign with the largest plurality of any county outside the Chicago metropolitan area. In November, you put Madison county in the first place in a quarter-century."

"Four years ago, there was a 21,000-vote deficit in the race for governor. But last fall, you provided a 373-vote Republican majority in the same race. That is a great turn-around," the governor commented.

"One of Mayor Daley's men paid you the supreme compliment a few weeks ago. He said since the election, the mayor and his machine have taken a lot of heat from Democratic and political commentators all over the country for failing to deliver the vote last November."

"One of the mayor's assistants had heard enough of this talk—which, after all, made his boss look bad—and he told me."

'Ball Game' Decided Here

"Look, if you really want to see where we lost Illinois, you ought to go outside the Quad-City area and look down south at Madison and St. Clair counties. That's where the game was decided. It was a great turn-around," the governor commented.

"As you well know, miracles—especially those of the political variety—seldom just happen. By dedicated people willing to ring doorbells, pick up mail, stuff envelopes and pound the pavement in behalf of the party's candidates."

He noted that Speaker Smith joined the "Ogilvie team" 16 months ago and said "His steadfast support and wise advice were vital to our success. Now that we are in office, I have no more reliable ally or knowledgeable partner in the business of state government than Ralph Smith. His service in Springfield is a credit to all of you who ought to take good note of it."

Gov. Ogilvie praised Chairman Walters; Mrs. Doreen Young, county GOP chairwoman; and the dinner chairman, and Robert Walters and Ivan Maple, who coordinated the campaign in "20 of the toughest counties." For governor, the GOP won 19 of the 29 counties, compared to only seven in 1964, he noted.

2 Sewer Breaks Discovered in GC Over Weekend

Two additional sewer breaks were reported over the weekend by Granite City Street Supt. William Warfield, who said one discovered Friday in the Nameoki grade school playground and the other discovered yesterday is along an easement at the rear of 2554 Waterman avenue.

At the schoolground, the huge hole was fenced Saturday and the pumping of sewage around the break in the 10-inch sanitary sewer line was started immediately. Depth of the line was estimated at 14 feet.

In the easement at the rear of 2554 Waterman avenue, street crews spent Saturday opening the eight-inch sanitary line, but on Sunday it was completely plugged with "quick sand," Supt. Warfield said. He added that a manhole has sunk at that site and that sewage is being pumped around the blockage. The line is an estimated 12 feet underground.

It was only last week that repairs were completed at a break along an easement in the 2500 block of Lynch avenue, and repairs started to a break on St. Clair avenue at Wayne avenue.

Repairs also are scheduled for a sunken manhole and sewer line break in the 3000 block of East 23rd street.

Three with Guns Arrested in Two Incidents Here

Two incidents of gunplay were reported over the weekend by Madison and Venice police, who noted that no shots were fired, but three arrests were made.

The first incident occurred about 2:30 a.m. Saturday outside a tavern where a Granite City man said he was leaving the building and two other men followed him outside, where one pulled a gun and threatened to shoot him. The other man got into a car, Gerold DelMontolm, 22, of 2437 East 23rd street, told police he knew of no reason for the threat.

After repeating the threat several times, the gunman got into the car and it sped off. Madison police were called and Venice and Granite City police also were notified, and Venice police spotted the car with two men on Main street.

Taken into custody were Jimmie Adams Jr., 32, St. Louis, and Edwin Louis Rau, 43, St. Louis, both charged with unlawful use of weapon. Police said Adams had on his possession a .38 caliber semi-automatic four live shells, while Rau had a .23 caliber automatic pistol.

At 4:45 a.m. Sunday, a Madison officer on special duty at a tavern saw two men at the doorway about to enter. One had a gun in his hand and was placing it in his waistband when he saw the policeman.

The man and his companion turned and walked away, and the officer went outside and ordered them to halt. The policeman said both men ignored the order and he drew his revolver. He saw the one man take something to the ground and took both into custody.

A .22 caliber revolver with four live shells was found on the ground, and charges of unlawful use of a weapon and carrying a concealed weapon were placed against Richard Schaffer, 27, St. Louis. He was released on $200 cash bond for a hearing Wednesday.

In Granite City, charges of disorderly conduct were placed against four Granite City men arrested about 12:50 a.m. Sunday at the Clark Service station, 20th street and Madison avenue, where they reportedly had attempted to gain entrance to the backroom of the station over the protests of the attendants.

In an ensuing scuffle, one of the attendants fired a shot from a small caliber pistol into a stack of oil cans to frighten off the gang. Passersby summoned police, and all patrol cars were dispatched to the station.

Added charges were filed against two of the men as a result of incidents enroute to the police station and a fire set in the jail.

Robert Cole, 26, of 2909 Cayuga street, was charged with disorderly conduct and with making excessive noise (squealing the tires of his car) and careless driving at 20th and State streets on the way to police headquarters. Robert Tidwell, 21, of 2340 Paul street, was charged with disorderly conduct, and at 3 a.m. he was charged with injury to public property when, police said, he set fire to blankets in the jail cell.

Also charged with disorderly conduct were Glen Morgan, 22, of 2050 Benton street, and Jerry Wise, 21, of 2900 West 22nd street.

GSI Plans Capital Expense Program Totaling $7,500,000

General Steel Industries, Inc., estimates 1969 capital expenditures will amount to about $7,500,000 compared with $5,000,000 in 1968. The plan includes expansion and modernization in 1968, W. Ashley Gray Jr., president, told shareholders today in the company's 1968 Annual Report.

GSI, a diversified corporation now headquartered in St. Louis, operates six divisions and 23 plants in the United States and abroad. Gray said the company has arranged to strengthen its financial position with the sale of $15,000,000 principal amount of 7 1/2 per cent, 20-year notes, due 1988, to a group of institutional investors. The transaction is expected to be completed in April.

Gray said the company expects "a substantial improvement in earnings in 1969, developing somewhat more slowly in the first quarter than the second because of the time required to bring the Castings Division plant back to efficient operations after the long strike."

Largest Backlog in History One consolidated order backlog amounted to $113,069,000 at Dec. 31, 1968, the largest year-end order backlog in its history, Gray said. GSI's 1968 and 1969 capital expenditures include a $4,500,000 plant being built at Walton road near Page avenue in St. Louis county for the company's Ludlow-Saylor Wire Cloth Division.

GSI's 1968 sales and earnings were made public Jan. 30. The company had 1968 net sales of $108,126,000 compared with $108,114,000 in 1967 and net income of $2,030,000 or 87 cents per share of common stock, compared with $2,361,000 or $1.41 per share, in 1967. Earnings in 1968 were 10% ahead of 1967 through the first nine months. In the fourth quarter, however, because of strikes at three divisions and serious manufacturing difficulties at another, a net loss was incurred for the quarter.

GSI has been emphasizing diversification through acquisition.

Mrs. Dorothy Marie Hunt, 49, of 1805 North 55th street, East St. Louis, the mother of a local resident, died of a heart ailment Wednesday at a hospital in Hayward, Calif., where she was a patient eight days. She had been visiting a son in Hayward.

Mrs. Hunt was born in East St. Louis and was a lifelong resident of that community. Her husband, Eugene Hunt, died in November 1968.

Survivors include three sons, Robert Hunt of Granite City, James Hunt of Hayward, Calif., and Roger Hunt of East St. Louis; six daughters, Misses Diane and Deborah Hunt and Mrs. Wayne (Sandra) Wells, all of East St. Louis; Mrs. Steven (Carol) Isenhardt of Wichita Falls, Tex.; Mrs. James (Betty) Massey of Chicago and Mrs. Ted (Shirley) Shelton of Farmington, Mo.; one brother, Lawrence Rogers, and a sister, Mrs. Edward (Delores) Baker, both of East St. Louis; and 13 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held today. Arrangements are given in the obituary column.

RE-ELECT JIM BARTON ASSESSOR

tions, Gray said, to help even out fluctuations in sales and earnings from its two largest divisions—the Castings Division in Granite City and the St. Louis Cast Division.

Industrial Supplier "GSI is now an important factor in the manufacturing of cast iron and steel rolls for steel mills and other metalworking industries (National Roll Division)," Gray said, "industrial wire screen and cloth for a wide variety of basic industries (Ludlow-Saylor Wire Cloth Division), industrial and reflective glass beads (Flex-O-Lite Division), and protective coatings and wrappings for pipe (Standard Pipeprotection Division)."

"These four divisions serve rapidly growing markets. The companies we acquired have been modernized and are being expanded substantially in order to maximize GSI's opportunities for sustained, profitable growth. During the five years 1964 through 1968, GSI invested approximately $28,000,000 in new plants and facilities and the largest part was devoted to expanding capacity and providing more efficient facilities for these divisions.

"Substantial improvements have already been completed and we have begun to see encouraging results. The four divisions accounted for more than half of GSI's consolidated net income in 1968 even prior to the four-quarter loss, which was incurred by our two large divisions—the Castings Division and St. Louis Cast Division."

Mrs. Margaret Evans, Dies; Former Resident

Mrs. Margaret E. Evans, 78, of Belleville, a former Granite City resident, died at 9:35 p.m. Saturday at St. Mary's Hospital East St. Louis, where she had been a patient for two weeks after suffering a stroke.

Mrs. Evans, wife of the late Charles W. Evans who died in 1932, was a native of Berlin, Germany, and lived here from 1918 until moving to Belleville in 1954. She was a member of the First United Presbyterian Church here and Granite Chapter 630, Order of Eastern Star.

Accident on Lot Autos being driven off the Bellemore Village shopping center lot onto Johnson road by Tamara Quirk, 2520 Roney drive, and Peggy Coleman, 2250 Miracle avenue, were involved in a minor accident Saturday morning.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Leslie (Henrietta) Hailip of Belleville, and two brothers, George and Albert Malotki, of Granite City. Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Public Program on Pruning To Mark Lawn-Garden Week

"Pruning" will be emphasized locally during the first week of spring, March 20-26, which has been formally declared National Lawn and Garden Week this year.

The objective throughout the U. S. is to direct public attention to improving the appearance of lawns, homes, neighborhoods and communities throughout the country.

The United States Department of Agriculture and industry and club associations are cooperating in promoting the observance with the slogan, "Growing with America."

Garden clubs of Granite City are co-sponsoring a forum at the Wilson Park recreation center on Sunday, March 23, at 2 p.m.

Wayne B. Siefert, area advisor in ornamental horticulture with the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service, will be featured at the forum. He will discuss one of the major problems in the home landscape—pruning of evergreens.

Siefert will present a three-fold program: a discussion on the how, what, when, where and why aspects of pruning; visual aids through slides; and a review of a descriptive pamphlet.

There will be a question-and-answer period following the program. There will be no charge, and homeowners are being urged to attend the demonstration.

Mrs. Earl T. Glenn, president of Gardenaires garden club, is in charge of the arrangements. Other cooperating clubs are the Garden Study, Cloverview, Thorngate and Terrace garden clubs.

These five clubs are also cooperating with the Granite City park district in sponsoring a horticulture show to be held at the ice rink on May 18. Schedules are being prepared, and anyone interested in entering the show should contact any of the garden clubs.

Guidelines For Reapportionment Set in New Bill

Legislation providing guidelines for reapportionment of 84 downstate counties, under which each county could choose its own method to meet one-man, one-vote standards, has been introduced in the General Assembly at Springfield by the County Problems Commission.

The bill would permit a system of weighted voting, although two attorneys general have given opinions that weighted voting would fall short of federal court requirements. The weighted voting issue is expected to face hurdles in both houses.

Some counties prefer the weighted voting system because it would avoid the need of redistricting and thus tend to preserve the political power of present members.

Sets 1971 Deadlines
The new measure provides that if the county Board does not adopt a redistricting plan by July 1, 1971, a commission in the county would have until October 1971, to reapportion the county board.

If the commission failed to prepare a plan, it would be required to choose from one among those submitted by citizens.

County boards are now made up of supervisors and assistant supervisors, but under redistricting provided in the new bill, only supervisors would be elected from each new district to make up the county board membership.

The measure provides for election of the board chairman to a four-year term either by a county popular vote at large or by the county board. Board chairmen now are elected from year to year by the board members.

Outstanding Piano Major at Local Campus

John Murphy of Minot, N. D., a piano major at Southern Illinois University—Southwestern campus, first met his teacher, Ruth Slenczynska, when he was 13. He was a student of Garrett Van Der Mei in Fargo, N. D., at the time and preparing to compete in a piano contest in Minneapolis. This was in 1962, two years before the celebrated Miss Slenczynska arrived at the campus as an artist-in-residence.

Van Der Mei arranged for the young artist to take two lessons from Miss Slenczynska in her New York studio, which she has continued to maintain since becoming a professor at SIU-SW.

"I coached Murphy to play Schumann's 'A Minor Concerto' for the competition," Miss Slenczynska said, "but learned only indirectly about the outcome from a friend who heard him play with the Minneapolis Symphony. From her description, I knew it must have been John, and that he had been a winner."

Plenty of Offers
Miss Slenczynska, known in private life as Mrs. James Kerr, did not hear from Murphy again until 1966 when Van Der Mei wrote saying John felt he had learned so much from her in two lessons he wanted to attend SIU-SW to study with her. The only hitch—he needed a scholarship. Offers came from other schools, but he was determined to settle for no less than the best—Miss Slenczynska.

She was leaving soon for a Far Eastern concert tour but urged her faculty chairman, Prof. Lloyd Binkley, to do what he could to bring Murphy to SIU. Upon her return from the Far East, he heard the good word—next fall Murphy was enrolling as a freshman.

"John was not the small boy I remembered," she said remissively. "He had grown into a big blonde, handsome man."

Since arriving at SIU-SW Murphy has received several recognitions for his playing, among them the Artist Presentation Award. Competition for this award is sponsored by the Artist Presentation Society which promotes talent of all ages within a 150-mile radius of St. Louis. As a result of winning this award Murphy will give a recital in Steinberg Auditorium at Washington University March 23 at 3 p.m.

SIU-SW PIANIST JOHN MURPHY

He almost didn't enter the competition because he had played supper music at Rusty's in Edwardsville until 2 a.m. Tired, sleepy, and afraid he wouldn't do well, this Deans' College student seriously considered reneging. Because he didn't want to disappoint Miss Slenczynska, he went to St. Louis for the contest, taking a silent keyboard and rehearsing until time to perform.

"This competition is stiff," according to his teacher, "to enter you have to have first-class ability and show programs of professional caliber."

Special Recognition
He hates himself, she continued, when he doesn't do as well as he thinks he should. "In the National Young Artist Competition held in Texas in February he was named first alternate. He was so good," she explained, "the judges deliberated two hours before making their decision. Because he played so well, they refused to call him runner-up. His competition came from some of the finest music schools in the U. S., and there were five entrants from abroad."

Murphy wasn't satisfied with his near win. He now refers to Rachininoff's "Concerto No. 1," which he played in its entirety, as the "Red Ribbon Concerto" because he thinks he is a second class. "But the judges didn't think so," Miss Slenczynska said, "and neither do I. I am proud to have had a first alternate for one of my pupils."

Last year Murphy studied in London with Clifford Curzon, in Fontainebleau, France, with Nadia Boulanger, and in Barcelona with Alicia De Larrocha. This summer he will teach in his hometown. Meanwhile, he has recitals and orchestral engagements from Maryland to North Dakota.

"Like an artist," his famous teacher says, "when he runs high, he runs high; when he is low, he is very low. But his black moods won't hurt him. I'm confident he will build his own fire under himself—he doesn't need someone to do it for him. If he wants to be a concert pianist, he will be, and right now he wants to be."

Murphy is residing at Gaslight Walk Apartments, here.

GC Optimists Inspect Wide Variety of Guns

An extensive collection of guns, ranging from a Peace maker Colt, "the gun that won the war," to a submachine gun, a weapon synonymous with gangland-style killings in the 1920s, was exhibited Thursday afternoon for Granite City Optimists at their regular luncheon meeting in the Rose Bowl restaurant.

Most of the weapons were the property of Thomas W. Hundley, a new member of the club, who explained the function of each gun and demonstrated procedure for repacking and re-loading ammunition, a feat he said can be accomplished for any weapon except a .22 caliber gun.

Two exceptions to Hundley's own collection on display were exhibited by Granite City Police Chief Ronald Veizer, who pointed out that both weapons are illegal for individuals to own.

One—the submachine gun—was commonly known as an "anti-bandit gun" when it initially appeared on the scene in the early 1920s, but later was amended to "submachine gun" when use of the weapon became widespread among underworld figures rather than law enforcement officers.

The second gun, a super-sawed-off shotgun, was a home-made variety of pistol fashioned from a shotgun. The weapon was confiscated by local police from an individual in 1967.

Hundley also displayed single and double barrel shotguns of various gauges, a Winchester

Equipment Damaged

A vandal apparently used a hammer to knock out tail, clutch, converter, oil, amp meter, water pump, fuel and ignition gauges on a back-hoe parked at the S. M. Wilson Co. construction site yard at East 23rd and Monroe streets, it was reported at 10 a.m. Friday.

Speeding charges were filed Thursday afternoon and night against Dennis W. Johnson, Collinsville, at West 20th street and Missouri avenue, and Jerry E. Webb, 4513 Vine blvd., at 2000 Edison avenue.

pump gun, valued at $350, a world war II Garand rifle, .38 revolver, Colt .45 automatic pistol, .30 carbine, and a tear gas gun equipped with container.

The speaker was introduced by Herman Mueller, program chairman. Optimist President Fred Cunningham presided during the business meeting.

Frank Rea, membership contest chairman, announced that Arthur D. Roseman and Anthony Michel were declared winners of the month-long contest. Each will receive tickets to the 1969 "Ice Capades" at the St. Louis Arena.

A total of 11 new members was added to the club roster last month, with several prospective members still to be enrolled. Rea reported.

Thirty-eight members attended the meeting. Guests were Chief Veizer, former police chief Raymond Willardet and Duane Pauer of Decatur and Illinois Power Co. representative.

Injunction Suit To Stop Work on Apartment Filed

An injunction suit against the James Green Construction Co. seeking to halt construction of an apartment complex in Arlington Heights was filed for Madison county by Jack Clifford, county building and zoning inspector, last week in the courthouse at Edwardsville.

A hearing is to be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday in circuit court.

According to the complaint, Donald R. Flack, an agent for the company, applied for a building permit and paid the fees on Jan. 13 and was advised that a permit could not be issued until the county had been furnished architect's plans and a detailed plat showing the location of the buildings.

Clifford charged that a county agent inspected the site on Jan. 29 and found that construction had started without a permit being issued.

A stop work order was issued by the agent on Feb. 26.

The complaint charges that the company was in violation of the zoning ordinance as the six-building project abutted a 30-foot roadway easement on the west side of the property and was in violation of the building code for proceeding without a building permit and for ignoring the stop work order.

The county asked that the company appear in court to show cause why it should not be enjoined from further construction in the project.

Two Fire Calls

Venice firemen were called at 5 p.m. Thursday to the home of Tim Hemmingsway, 127 Logan street, where fire developed around the furnace. Firemen said there was no damage to the building but estimated damage to contents at about $10. Venice firemen also were called to the 200 block of Hill street, Eagle Park Acres, shortly before noon Thursday to extinguish a weed fire. They were at the scene an hour. There was no damage.

Dobrey slough which cuts through the center of the area through culverts beneath Angela drive. The blockage has caused a backup of water created an apparent underground pressure that is forcing water into basements of homes in the area.

Ebersold pointed out in the meeting, however, that drainage improvements in the Long Lake, Pontoon Beach and Nanticoke ditch areas also are essential if a critical flooding condition is to be averted in the next really heavy rainfall in the area.

He said he also has discussed with state officials the extent of their intended improvement of Horseshoe Lake if a bill introduced by State Rep. Ralph Smith of Alton to buy the lake for a state park is passed.

"Just buying the lake property doesn't do anything about dredging it or improving it so that it will handle the area's drainage," Ebersold added.

The bill introduced by Rep. Smith would appropriate $2 million for purchase of the lake and land surrounding it.

He said that unless Horseshoe Lake is properly maintained as a drainage basin and the lake drainage outlets are dredged and kept open "your water doesn't have any place to go."

Ebersold said that arrangements are under way to borrow sufficient pipe from Granite City to permit pumping of Dobrey slough in an effort to alleviate the pressure condition giving New Haven residents so much trouble.

"We (the levee district) have some heavy pumps," he said. "We will move these into the area if we can get the necessary pipe, and begin pumping to try to get you some relief immediately."

Parents Form Group On Special Education

A special business meeting was called by the Parents Committee for Special Education Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Grady, 2727 Sunset drive.

Purpose was to appoint a subcommittee to seek greater special education efficiency in operation of classes for the trainable and educable handicapped.

Mrs. Jean Fisher, Mrs. Sharon Rickert, Mrs. Melba Grady and Bill Kimbro reported on their visit to a school board meeting last week. It is planned to attend board sessions at which special education is discussed. The parents' committee has 40 members, and those desiring information about the group may call Mrs. Fisher, 878-8992.

Ebersold criticized the Illinois State Highway department for what he said is a complete disregard of the area's drainage problems in construction of built-up highways "that have culverts beneath them but provide no place for the water to go."

"They have a responsibility in this picture, too, and it's not just the highway department," he added.

The state must assume some responsibility in the drainage picture, Ebersold told the group.

"They are spending money to keep East St. Louis residents from shooting one another," he said, then asked: "If they're doing that, why shouldn't they spend some money to keep us from drowning?"

He suggested that the group prepare for the mass meeting by filling out petitions and forming a committee that is ready to present the overall problem to Cong. Price and state officials. The names of all persons attending the meeting were obtained and Ebersold said they would be notified of arrangements he is able to make for such a meeting.

Venice Pct. 1 Polling Place is Relocated

Change in the polling place location of Precinct One, Venice township, was announced today by Arthur "Cooper" Moore, supervisor of Venice township.

The polling location, formerly in the Venice city hall, will be changed to the new park district building, 336 Broadway. The township has a total of 11 polling precincts.

The new location will be used in the April 1 township and Venice p a r k district elections. Moore said transfer of the polling place to the park board will prevent the necessity of Precinct One voters balloting in two separate places. The park district office is the only polling place for the park election.

St. Supt. Warfield Relates Views on GC Sewer Breaks

Street Supt. William Warfield took exception to Mayor Partee's outburst of electric officials' duties and responsibilities last week and said he was not responsible for frequent sewer breaks in the area.

"I'm getting the blame, and those sewers were put in before I was ever elected to office," Warfield told the Press-Record. "My job is merely maintenance man for the streets and sewers."

The superintendent went on to predict more and more sewer breaks if the high underground water level continues.

"The joints of the pipes just don't fit properly; we've found at the breaks; and when ground water does find a hole in the joint, the seepage begins and sand starts washing in the lines, causing it to become undermined and to collapse."

"When those sewers were installed in the Nameoki area, Granite City Steel was pumping water from wells instead of from the river and the area was having a terrific dry spell."

"Someone should have realized the water table would rise again and that those lines would be virtually floating in water. Why, at the Lynch avenue break, where the sewer line is 12 to 14 feet down, ground water was hit at five feet."

Warfield added that his men have spotted several other places where ground is sinking

Percy Proposes Big Overhaul of Social Security

Sen. Charles Percy (R-Ill.) called Friday for a major overhaul of the nation's Social Security system. He introduced a legislative package that would substantially improve benefits for dependents and widows, eliminate present earnings limitations for the elderly, partially refund payroll taxes for the poor, and provide for cost-of-living adjustments.

Percy called for a comprehensive review of Social Security, private pensions, tax laws and income maintenance for the elderly.

"In the 30 years since operation of the Social Security program began, there has never been a full review of its purposes, direction, and impact on the economy of the nation and its people," he said.

Pending a basic revision of policy toward the treatment of income for retired persons, Percy urged several "immediate and responsible steps that can be taken to correct glaring inequities and respond to the very human needs of the millions who depend on Social Security."

The Percy program would:

Link to Cost of Living
Increase Social Security benefits whenever the consumer price index rises by 3% or more. "Experience has amply indicated that political considerations have too often dictated Congressional action and, therefore, increased in Social Security benefits have lagged far behind the rising cost of living."

Increase the earnings limitation for persons aged 65 and over from the present $1680 a year to $2400 in order to be eligible to receive full Social Security benefits. Over a period of seven years the legislation would eliminate the earnings limitation for the elderly altogether.

Permit the surviving spouse of a primary beneficiary to receive a full 100% of Social Security benefits. Under present law, a man can draw 100% of his monthly benefits if he is married or 100% if he is a widower. His widow, however, can receive only 82 1/2% of his total monthly amount.

"This situation creates a serious injustice," Percy said. "A widow's expenses are usually less costly than a man's. It is a cruel blow for a widow when she loses not only her husband but also almost half of her income at the same time."

Extra for Big Families
Establish a minimum dependent benefit of $30 so that, for each child, an additional $20 a month would be added to the overall family benefit.

Percy noted that "the costs of raising a family of four and a family of eight are just not the same. Under the existing formula, large families do not receive any additional benefits to compensate for their size. This legislation is needed to reflect the added expenses which large families must incur to achieve the same living standards as smaller families."

Adopt a formula by which up to 90% of the Social Security payroll tax currently paid by workers in the lowest-income groups would be refunded. "For millions of low-income families," he said, "Social Security is an ever-present burden with benefits a far-distant reality."

"A nation committed to the principle of progressive taxation finds that the Social Security payroll tax is increasingly regressive because the poor pay proportionately higher percentages of their incomes."

He added, "Until some of the present shortcomings are corrected, Social Security will not adequately protect those citizens it was meant to protect."

"Only when we rectify some of the contradictory and self-defeating provisions in the present legislation will we finally be facing up to our responsibilities to our older citizens and to society as a whole."

Parent-Child Relationship Study Program to be Started

A program for the study and improvement of parent-child relations will begin at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church Thursday from 7 to 8:30 p.m. The study is designed to be an educational approach to more effective human relations within the family.

This adult study group will be conducted by Dr. Raymond E. Troyer, associate professor of Psychology at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus, and consist of eight sessions.

The format of the study will include a movie at each session, followed by small discussion groups, and a summary time.

The topics and dates are as follows:

March 20, "Conscience of a Child"; March 27, "Preface to a Life"; April 10, "Stress"; April 17, "Your Child and Discipline"; April 24, "I Never Looked at It That Way Before"; May 1, "Roots of Happiness"; May 8, "Jamie: Story of a Sibling"; May 15, "Sibling Relations and Personality." Emphasis will be on human interaction with the goal of preventing trouble before it develops. Dr. Troyer has stated, "We all face similar difficulties and can really learn through open discussions. One of the most important advantages is the influence members of the group have on each other as they share their learning and progress week after week," he added.

The program is under co-sponsorship with Dr. Troyer, Co-ordinated Youth Services, The Quad-Cities Ministerial Association and Niedringhaus United Methodist Church. Ministers of the area will be involved as small group leaders. Playground facilities will be available for preschool age children.

Go-Ahead Signal For Junior College

Approval was given at Chicago Friday by the Illinois Junior College Board for an election to form the proposed Lewis and Clark Junior College District that excludes the Quad-Cities area.

The proposed district will include 17 school districts in parts of Madison, Calhoun, Jersey, Macoupin and Greene counties. Petitions for the special election now go to the State Board of Higher Education for final approval. That board meets April 8.

A tax rate of an estimated 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation is to be levied for the district.

Two Madison Youths Enlist in Marines

Taking advantage of the Marine Corps "Buddy" program, two Madison youths have enlisted in the Corps. They are Timothy Morton and Dennis Rice. They will report for active duty July 3.

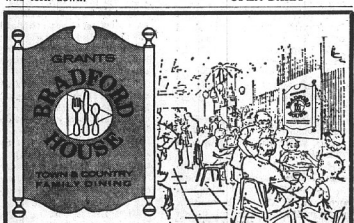

Under the Buddy program, they will go to recruit training together and will be in the same platoon at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego, Calif. As many as five men can be enlisted and trained together.

Pvt. Morton is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morton, 1067 Fourth street, and Pvt. Rice is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Rice, 1540 Fifth street.

Auto Hit from Rear

An auto driven south on Klein street by Earl Reed, 27, of 151 Viola Jones Homes, went out of control about 4:45 a.m. Friday at Circle drive and crashed into the fence at the John Manville plant. Police said Reed was unhurt, but there was considerable damage to his auto and about 50 feet of the fence was torn down.

SHORTAGE OF DOCTORS HARMFUL TO PATIENTS

To the Editor:

In reference to the March 10 letter, "Additional Hospitals Needed in This Area," after reading it I feel I have an obligation to relate an experience our family was put through about a year ago.

I came home from work one evening to find my mother lying on her bedroom floor with an apparent stroke. She had had one stroke previously. My first concern was to call an ambulance and take her to the hospital two blocks from my home.

The time my mother arrived in the emergency room was 6:30 in the evening. No doctor looked at her in the emergency room. A Candy Stripper wiped my mother's brow and patted her head.

She was then admitted; no medical doctor looked at her. In the process of admitting her to a room, she was taken to a bath. By this time it was nearly 7:30 and this is all the attention she had received that day.

Her regular doctor was away on vacation. The doctor filling in for him was in a meeting in St. Louis county. In the meantime, for all our family knew she might have been near death at any time.

I made numerous requests to the head nurse on duty that some doctor take a look at her. She said there was not a doctor in the hospital and I would have to just wait. Meanwhile, my mother's life hung in the balance.

Just after this, an aid came into the room with a soda in one hand and a thermometer in the other.

All the while she took my mother's fading pulse, she stepped on her side. This I considered flippant. She seemed more concerned with drinking the soda than my mother's pulse or welfare. I told her to leave and take her soda break somewhere else. I didn't appreciate her attitude one bit under the circumstances.

By now, my mother had been there for three hours and her toilet treatment consisted of being bathed, a lot of sweet-smelling powder and the visit by the aid. I once again approached the head nurse, requesting a doctor or to take my mother to a hospital where she would receive medical attention.

I was told I could take her and do with her whatever I pleased. Despite being brought from all that had happened, I believe that under the circumstances I still behaved like a gentleman.

She was given a hypo and had started to rest some. I stayed with her until she had decided not to move her, since she was resting. Still no doctor. I went home and rested for a little while and was back the next morning at 7:30.

The doctor finally arrived at 8:30 a.m. to examine my mother. He said she apparently had a stroke and there was possibly permanent damage to the whole right side, that she would have to be confined to a wheelchair upon leaving the hospital.

Possibly the damage might not have been as extensive had she been given proper medical attention at the right time.

She passed away at 8:30 the next evening. About a week after her death, I wrote a letter to the superior complaining of the treatment, but held the letter a few days, waiting against mailing it because this would not bring my mother back and they probably would not pay any attention to it.

The Forum letter from the local woman brought all these bad memories back to me once again, and I felt she needed an ally.

We surely do need another hospital—at least one with doctors.

UNSOLVED PROBLEMS
CITED AS CITY ISSUE

To the Editor:

Responsible voting—does this concern me? I believe every voter must be responsible and know the persons for whom he votes.

It is not enough to just listen to and read political speeches and spoken and published by people who have patronage jobs or who have been promised something for their support.

If a public servant has done a good job, it is my opinion we should keep him. However, think we should be aware that a lot of the major improvements Granite City now enjoys were in the making for many years before completion.

from completion to any major projects.

We voters should give consideration to the problems that have not been solved. Have there been any attempts to remedy them? If there were, why did the endeavors suffer defeat?

There are many ways to learn about our candidates—through our churches, organizations, sports and camping. If none of these ideas are feasible, we can always talk to the candidates personally.

Voters should thoroughly investigate any candidate who "sings mud" and tries to darken the character of his opponent.

A candidate who stoops to this type of campaign should not be allowed to hold office. I would be fearful as to how he would run his office.

Further, it is an insult to voters' intelligence—thinking that the voters fall for that sort of thing.

Let us analyze the past four years and make up our own minds as to which candidates should be re-elected. I believe that a team working together accomplishes much more than one pulling in different directions.

Let's all be responsible voters.

BOYD WOULD BE FAIR TO BUSINESS, LABOR

To the Editor:

We have found that to be a good union leader, you must understand the problems of both labor and management.

For good union leaders realize that the union cannot run the business—that it takes management and the union working together to have a profitable enterprise for both.

I just hope in the coming mayor election that the business people of Granite City realize that Mr. Boyd is just as interested in their problems as he is in the problems of labor.

Not a word in the primary election that Mr. Boyd did very well in all city precincts until he was elected. He would be quite a few business people live, such as around the park area.

Maybe it's natural for business people to be leery of union people in public office. But I think we, union and business together, have a golden opportunity to disprove this theory in the coming mayor election by electing Clyde "Red" Boyd our mayor for the next four years.

It was my pleasure to serve as treasurer of my local union. Mr. Boyd was president. I can surely vouch for his honesty, sincerity and devotion to the job.

I am positive that if all the voters knew Mr. Boyd as I do, then he would be our mayor April 1.

Let us vote out dissension and elect harmony and get our city on the move.

RAISE LIVING STANDARD TO PREVENT VIOLENCE

To the Editor:

We have a lot of talk by our national leaders, including our President, about violence and what it will take to prevent it. I think we have come up with any workable answer.

Many things need to be done to solve these problems, which will stop violence in this country.

Here's what I think it will be: First, raise the standard of living for all poor people of this nation. Second, improve the health and medical care for all people of this nation.

Third, stop graft in the medicare program.

I see that in California it is estimated there were close to six or eight million dollars taken for medicare programs by doctors, pharmacists and nursing homes received money in amounts not justified.

These things come from a report that was made by the Attorney General of California.

Native Granite Cityan Receives Vital Post in the Defense of World Freedom

To say that Granite Cityans are proud of their native son, Andrew Jackson Goodpastor, would be an understatement. The Community high school graduate has earned all the military honors that exist. In his new capacity as supreme commander of U. S. and NATO forces in Europe, he will lead a huge network of men and armaments which much of the hope for world freedom depends.

The four-star assignment is not the first he has held that involves great responsibilities, of course. He served on the staff of Gen. Eisenhower when the latter was NATO commander and commanded the vital National War College, which trains the top U. S. military leaders; held the post of military staff secretary under both President Eisenhower and President Kennedy; was the transition advisor to President Nixon on National Security Council procedures and military policy questions between the election and inauguration; and has been the deputy U. S. commander in Vietnam since July 1968.

Although there has been a brighter spotlight on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization since the Soviet crackdown in Czechoslovakia, the pace at Brussels is likely to be somewhat less hectic than in Vietnam or at the office of the Joint Chiefs of Staff chairman, a post for which he also is believed to have been considered. This will give him a better chance to regain his strength following a recent illness.

At 54, Gen. Goodpastor is still young enough to serve in Europe now and also to accept higher duties at some time during the 1970s. This is fortunate for America and for the cause of democracy, because he is regarded as able to plan and carry out duties with a brilliance and such of the surpassing kind that he is expected from a strategist and leader of such long experience and consistent success.

Decisive Senate Primary Victories

The decisive primary victories by Harry Briggs, Democrat, and Dr. Merrill Ottwein, Republican, set the stage for an interesting election April 29 to pick the successor to Lt. Gov. Clinton D. Roper.

The overall Democratic edge of 6660 to 4636 is offset partly by the fact that there were comment that they gave you a very exaggerated story, according to my experience and efforts in trying to obtain employment.

Instead of citing all the benefits and rate of pay, etc., they said that I was a "lousy" worker and that I was not qualified for the job. I am a maintenance worker and I am a maintenance worker.

I applied there six weeks ago and also about a year ago. Both times, all I got to do was put my name and address on a small card. I was called in by some college whittaker who asked my age and weight, said I was overweight and wouldn't let me fill out a regular application.

I tried to tell him I could be a maintenance worker and he said I was a "lousy" worker. I also told him I was a "lousy" worker and he said I was a "lousy" worker.

I called when I saw the headline and talked to some fellow who got the same result—the regulations wouldn't permit hiring of overweight men. I told him, "You don't want me very much. Why are you trying to fool the public?"

Each time I was there, 10 or 15 men were making out interview cards, and I know they can't all be unfit.

Why don't they show how many applications they have taken and the reasons for the rejections? Because they won't permit many to make out an application, just an interview card.

Please print this, as I want them to know I can work younger men. I have worked hard the majority of the years. I'm in the 40s now and just need to limber up a little.

INDUSTRIAL PHYSICAL REQUIREMENTS TOO HIGH

To the Editor:

Regarding the headline March 10, "Shortage of men delaying job expansion," I would like to four active candidates on that ticket and two actively aspiring for the GOP nomination.

Winning every precinct in his home community of Edwardsville although opposed by the retiring Edwardsville mayor, Dr. Ottwein will look to the eastern and northwestern areas of the 53rd district for his main support next month, although he also has many friends here.

Whoever wins will get an immediate test of his legislative skill. The 76th General Assembly will convene in January, will enter the decisive phase of its initial session in May and June.

Bill Provides for County Bond Issues To Install Refuse Disposal Facilities

House Bill 528 deserves considerable support by Madison County residents. Introduced by Representatives Vadalabene, Smith, Kennedy, Calvo and five others, and approved by 100 commonwealth legislators, it would authorize counties to issue bonds to provide facilities for refuse disposal.

The effect in Madison county of such a bond would be to provide more and more of a squeeze on statutory limits on the total tax rate permit a sufficient tax increase for amortization, a referendum would not be required.

Except for this latter point, which should be amended to require submission to the public, the legislation is a good idea.

The growth in population and material goods and the reduction in unused space are putting more and more of a squeeze on the whole issue of dumps, landfills, composting and incineration. Without adequate funds, counties have little chance to devise solutions.

Companies Ask: 'Where Have All The Prospective Workers Gone?'

The worker shortage reported by General Steel Industries last week is a serious problem because it jeopardizes the ability of firms to produce specified goods when needed. Such ability is the key to obtaining re-orders, on which the future of any manufacturing enterprise depends.

With Quad-City employment in the last several years well below the previous plateau, a question that arises is "Where are all the workers?"

An increased number appears to be working elsewhere and commuting from homes here. Some have moved away. Many are in military service. Aid rolls provide income for others.

The solution may be found in expanded recruiting programs locally and in surrounding areas of Illinois and Missouri.

We wish the Castings Division and other companies to consider such a program. The job security of all employees of a firm is involved. And the proposed addition of 200 to General Steel's Castings staff will in itself be a big stimulus to Quad-City economic growth.

When hiring a man at a high salary, don't expect him to work all the time; it takes a good deal of his time to spend the salary.

Propose State School Bus Aid Hike (Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois)

With school transportation and in unit districts such as in costs up because of increased enrollments, inflation and the raising of state specification standards for buses, the Illinois State Problems Commission is proposing a new transportation formula.

At present, the School Code provides for a transportation fund which consists of money received from property tax levies (not to exceed 8 cents per $100 of valuation without referendum, or from 8 to 15 cents per $100 of valuation with referendum), state reimbursement and funds received from other districts and individuals for transporting pupils.

Many districts, during the past few years, had to transfer Educational Fund money to the Transportation Fund to maintain its solvency.

In most districts, this money is needed to finance the educational programs.

A breakdown of the 1967 Transportation Fund Tax rates shows that 313 districts in case of special tax rate extended less than 8 cents per $100 of property valuation, 748 districts had a rate of 8 cents extended less than 8 cents per $100 of property valuation, and 1,000 districts had a rate greater than 8 cents.

Under the proposed formula, the state will pay the cost of transporting eligible pupils less the assessed valuation of a proportionately 37 million more a district's tax rate than the state's contribution from 30% to 50% of the total cost for transportation in high school districts, 5 cents; in elementary districts, 3 cents; in kindergartens, 2 cents.

Approved by the 76th Illinois General Assembly, the new formula will cost the state approximately $7 million more a year than the current state's contribution from 30% to 50% of the total cost for transportation in high school districts, 5 cents; in elementary districts, 3 cents; in kindergartens, 2 cents.

Recently the Rockford Morning-Star editorially condemned the idea of a state lottery in Illinois to solve our financial problems.

But that newspaper's opinion is hardly universal. Even at a meeting of educational leaders the question was raised, "Isn't a state lottery the answer to our problems of finance?"

There are two answers to that question. 1. Under the present state constitution, we cannot have a state lottery.

2. In the two states which have a state lottery, New York and New Hampshire, experience shows that a state lottery is anything but satisfactory from the viewpoint of revenue.

Virtually every state at one point in history had legalized lotteries. They were taken for granted in Illinois and most states. When Lincoln was a member of the Illinois General Assembly lotteries frequently were authorized to raise money for various projects.

Lotteries were not only a part of the state scene but were carried on in the colonies prior to the United States becoming a nation. The first legalized lottery in what is now the United States was in the colony of Virginia to erect a Lutheran church there.

But in Illinois and other states, the lotteries proved to be so tempting a prize for some public officials and others operating the lotteries that they were prohibited with corrupt intent when new state constitutions were written, lotteries were prohibited.

There soon will be a state constitutional convention in Illinois which could repeal the lotteries. But a lottery for the next two years is unconstitutional.

Even if it were possible, the experience in New Hampshire and New York should make any reasonable person pause. In neither state has there been a serious problem with corruption, so far, but income has been far below expectations. New Hampshire is now considering dropping the lottery and New York each month has a lower and lower income from the lottery.

Re-Use of Land Is Vital Where Structures Have Deteriorated

(Excerpts from Granite City Long-Range Plan)

Following are three of the 11 community goals and broad community objectives used in preparing the Granite City long-range development plan. The others will be given on this page in the next two issues.

A. To improve commercial and industrial properties.

If Granite City is to attract new commercial establishments and industries, it must first upgrade existing but deteriorating commercial and industrial properties and provide for a more intense re-use of land.

This can be accomplished with federal assistance to private enterprise.

B. To improve existing housing and provide an adequate supply of varied housing types.

Conservation, rehabilitation and redevelopment practices should be utilized more extensively as part of an overall program for upgrading the housing supply.

Deteriorated structures should be replaced in order to provide for the re-use of land. As market demand increases in the area, additional housing types, such as single-family detached homes, duplexes, three-family or four-family units, apartments, and garden-type multi-family units will be needed.

In addition, high-density residential units should be provided in close proximity to the Central Business District and additional housing for the elderly should be provided.

C. To expand economic opportunities and strengthen the community's tax base.

This will require concerted community effort and support, and effective programs for economic promotion and development.

Since about 80% of today's industrial growth and development is produced by expansion of existing industries, the community's leaders should remain attuned to the problems and needs of existing industries as well as to the promotion of new industries.

Continued assistance and support should also be given to industrial and commercial growth in the area that could not be accommodated in Granite City proper.

Next: Downtown, traffic needs and annexation.

Veeder Urges Reappraisal of Foreign Trade Policy

Tremendous increases in imports of steel as well as of capital equipment and consumer goods emphasize the need "for a reappraisal of the liberal foreign trade policy our government has followed since the mid-1920's," Nicholas P. Veeder, chairman and chief executive officer of Granite City Steel Co., said Thursday night.

"We live in a world where our competitors, the other industrialized nations, have caught up with our technology, and living and high wage rates," Veeder said. "It is time our foreign trade policy was adjusted to conform to the real world of 1969."

Veeder spoke at a regional economic conference of the American Iron and Steel Institute at the Colony Motor Hotel in Clayton, Mo. Imports of steel have risen from 7% of the U. S. market in 1964 to 17% in 1968, he said, and "theoretical generalizations on free trade simply do not apply to our industry."

Problem Is Special
The steel industry is "a special problem," Veeder said, calling for the adoption of quotas to bring imports down to a level "where they would not erode the domestic steel industry's markets and growth prospects."

"Most economists would agree that a healthy steel industry is essential to our economic well being as well as our national security," Veeder said. "Steel accounts for 95% of the weight of all metals and for the bulk of all processed materials used in manufacturing. We cannot assume that imports from Europe and Japan will always be available in the future."

"It matters little if we take this risk with Scotch whisky, French cognac, German beer and Japanese motorcycles. But we will be in a difficult position indeed if we do not reduce the dependence of our domestic economy on imported steel."

Voluntary Program
Veeder said that the U. S. State Department in 1968 began to become aware "that there is, indeed, something wrong. The Department had conversations with steel producers of Japan and the European Common Market because all these parties recognized there was, in fact, something wrong. The result was that these steel producers—not their governments—have offered to voluntarily limit their exports of steel to the United States for the period 1969-1971. This is a step in the right direction, but a step only."

"The steel producers concerned have accounted for about 80% of the total imports. Assuming other steel producing countries reduce shipments proportionately, the agreement would allow at least 14,000,000 tons of foreign steel to enter the United States this year. 1969 would be the second highest import year on record."

"The American steel industry needs faster, more definite and more secure corrective action. Specifically, we need passage of a bill introduced last month in the U. S. Senate. The Iron and Steel Orderly Trade Act of 1969 would establish a quota limitation on steel imports. The formula to be used would limit imports to 2.6% of the average total of steel consumed in the United States during the preceding three years."

"Under the formula we propose, imports would be held to about 10,000,000 tons in 1969 ... compared with 14,000,000 tons under the voluntary agreement ... and with the 18,000,000 tons of foreign steel which came into the United States in 1968."

Wages 4 Times Higher
Veeder said that the "total employment cost per hour worked by the American steelworker is at about $5.50. This is well over four times the hourly employment cost in Europe."

"I have seen hopeful statements to the effect that hourly labor costs are rising faster abroad as the standard of living begins to catch up with ours. You may be interested in a calculation based on the assumption that hourly labor costs here and abroad are to rise from 1964 forward at the same rates as for the period of 1960-64. On that basis, it will take wages in Japan 26 years to catch up with U. S. rates ... and wages in West Germany, 25 years."

"We don't want to wait that long!" Veeder said the steel industry faces "an additional complicating" factor in that "governments throughout the world—with the single exception of our own government—support their steel industries through protection of home markets, assistance in modernization, incentives to export. The total picture is the antithesis of independent producers competing in a free market on a comparatively equal basis."

"There is something vitally wrong when foreign steel producing companies can export free and unlimited access to the steel markets of the U. S. while continuing to protect their home markets against steel made in the U. S."

Conference Set Friday
On 'Problems of Aged'
"Problems of the Aged" will be the topic of an all-day conference Friday at Southern Illinois University—Southwestern campus, under the auspices of the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission.

Maurice S. Harris, county EOC director, today said the conference is open to all interested persons. Registration will take place at 9 a.m. Friday in the SIU-SW University Center Ballroom, or in advance by contacting the EOC office at 656-8240. A $3 fee will include attendance, materials and noon meal, the director added.

Keynote speaker will be Jerry Woolen, director of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Health Welfare Council. Following the keynote address, participants will divide into workshop groups of their choice, relating to housing, health, income, transportation and employment.

Madison county resource agency personnel who will serve as individual workshop leaders, include Michael Dutton, Quad-City Mental Health Center; Mrs. Louise Parker, Illinois Youth Commission; Mrs. Mary Corbett, director of Alton Young Women's Christian Association; Mrs. Maxine Chambers, SIU-SW School of Nursing; and Mrs. Margaret Vozak, geriatric director of Alton State Hospital.

During a n d following the workshop sessions, consultative assistance will be provided by James Channel, specialist on aging from the Regional Office of Economic Opportunity, Chicago; Robert Heydenburg from the Illinois Governor's Office of Human Resources; and Illinois Council on Aging consultants, Mrs. Elizabeth Breckenridge, Mrs. Evelyn Ewing and Miss Madelyn Armbrust.

Victor L. Darnell, county EOC deputy director, is coordinating Friday's conference in cooperation with university officials and local and state agency executives.

Repairing old troublesome, rotted and rattling windows has always been a problem to homeowners and property owners who want to modernize. However, a handsome unique aluminum replacement window now provides a simple and economical solution.

This revolutionary product — Nu-Sash® — is a window specifically designed to replace old outdated deteriorated windows. The cost including installations — is nearly 40% less than other methods of renovating or remodeling old windows.

With Nu-Sash, there is no costly remodeling of inside walls; no messy or dirty construction work. Old windows are removed and expert installation men install Nu-Sash in a matter of hours without touching inside plaster or disturbing the present woodwork around windows.

Nu-Sash has been tested under rigid laboratory conditions. Results show the window superior to recommended standards set up by FHA for new construction requirements.

Savings in heat and air conditioning bills alone pay for a Nu-Sash conversion. However, the real advantages and savings of new Nu-Sash windows are greatly realized when the outstanding features are tested and compared against ordinary windows.
